

Biography Jacques Des Ormeaux

Jacques started his career in Municipal Affairs as a Parks and Recreation Director at the age of 24. After thirty (30) years in that field he still has the same interest and passion for public services. Jacques has had the opportunity of working in many different Departments so he can easily measure the workload that can be sustained by each employee.

As well, Jacques has two master degrees in administration and a bachelor degree in science. Many projects have led him to understand the importance of communication and understanding.

Jacques has three children and one grandson (and looking forward to his second grandchild in June 2009). He enjoys tennis, archery, scuba diving, skiing and running. Sightseeing and visiting other countries are also an added value to his culture.

Jacques enjoys the CAMA Board of Directors as it permits him to voice his opinions on issues of mutual interest to all municipalities in Canada.
