

Dear CAMA Member:

Your local government may have already taken steps toward a sustainable future. However, some overlook the carbon footprint that your office creates and the amount of waste generated. The question remains how can you reduce your reliance on paper, and how can you make the most efficient uses of your resources? CivicWeb is for government professionals who are swamped with never-ending process related to managing the preparation, approval and distribution of agendas, minutes AND tracking mission critical deliverables within the organization. Our solutions will help take your office to a new level of efficiency and sustainability by providing you with some of the following benefits:

- Local Governments have the ability to involve the staff in the agenda creation process by enabling staff to directly submit items electronically into the agenda package.
- Staff have a robust tracking and task management tool within the Action Tracking module that facilitates management of meeting follow up with the ability to push the item into the next meeting.
- Enhanced service delivery for both the public and other stakeholders using the InTouch module to provide electronic forms which can be filled out and submitted into the Action Tracking module without manual data entry and nothing falls through the cracks!
