

Protecting You And Your People

Operating internationally comes with risks and rewards. Organisations rely on their workforce to deliver these rewards. Partnering with us, you can mitigate health, safety and security risks that workforces face when posted away from home or travelling around the world.

Mitigating Risk

Whether your personnel be in the workplace, travelling or in remote locations, they will face medical, safety and security hazards.

These hazards threaten your reputation, expose you to lost opportunities, as well as increased costs. In some cases they can even result in litigation.

Working with us, you have the confidence that our unrivalled experience will help you minimise your exposure and maximise your return on prevention.

This will leave you to concentrate on your core business.

Where We Can Help

Staff health and well-being has been at the heart of our business for over thirty years. Recognising that the avoidance of crises is vital, we concentrate the bulk of our activities on assessment and prevention.

Our advice and assistance services have been proven to be life and reputation saving innumerable times.

Our services provide risk mitigation for personnel on remote sites, workplaces and travelling.

With scalable solutions, whatever your size and structure, we are here to give you peace of mind.

A Selection of Services

Caring for your workforce and your business, worldwide with:

Travel risk mitigation

- Preparatory information, policies and training
- Travel compliance, tracking and reporting
- World event analysis, advice and assistance

Remote site risk mitigation

- Risk assessment and training
- On-site medical expertise with critical backup network

Assistance and evacuation (only when needed)

Workplace risk mitigation

- Policy development support
- Medical screening and preparation.

