

Traditional vs Online Auctions

Most procurement officials assume their surplus disposition process is compliant with their policy. What many fail to realize is that there are blind spots regarding visibility and accountability in their processes. Our solution ensures transparency while improving results.

Traditional Auctions

Infrequent auctions

High cost of storage

Items may lose value waiting for next event

Weather concerns

Overtime for staff

Bidders must travel

Fewer potential buyers

Lower ROI

Less control

Online Auctions

Sell immediately (as is/where is)

Low storage costs

Items not subject to depreciation & ageing

It never rains at GovDeals!

Little staffing needed

Only winning bidder travels

Over 625,000 potential buyers

Highest ROI

Complete control

Government only marketplace
