Is it the start of the term in your local government, midway or near the end? It doesn't matter as attention to the political/administrative interface is an ongoing imperative. Join other colleagues, civic leaders, elected officials, CAO's, managers & staff from throughout Canada to share real time challenges and opportunities you are facing. Take away tools, tactics, ideas and a CAO/Check-In tool to enhance communication efforts, decision making practices and strategic processes. Alignment efforts lead to mutual confidence that enhances Council/staff relations and collaboration.

Contact Jennifer Goodine, CAMA Executive Director admin@camacam.ca if you have any questions about this opportunity.

About the speaker

Dr. Gordon McIntosh

This session will be facilitated by Dr. Gordon McIntosh who is passionate about local government leadership and is constantly learning as he leads strategic or governance sessions throughout Canada and overseas. He has conducted over 1,400 sessions, received professional recognition as a Chief Administrative Officer and his doctoral and current research focus on CAO leadership. He looks forward to sharing a practical CAO/Council check-in tool in an interactive session.

Tracey Lorenson

Tracey is recognized as a pragmatic and results oriented facilitator who has worked with local governments for more than 30 years as a lawyer, governance expert, consultant and coach. She assists local governments with candid and respectful conversations around strategy, performance and governance to develop high performing elected and staff groups, as well as helping groups navigate through conflict.
