Mike Galloway
Chief Administrative Officer
Town of Caledon, ON

Mike Galloway started his municipal career with the City of Kitchener and over the past twenty years has held progressive leadership roles. He currently leads close to 1,000 employees as the Chief Administrative Officer (CAO) with Caledon and prior to this served as CAO with the Town of Niagara-on-the-Lake for six years. He also has been active in the broader municipal sector through his involvement with numerous organizations. Since 2008, he has served as an Instructor for the Diploma in Municipal Management program and also spent fifteen years on the Association of Municipalities of Ontario (AMO) Board of Directors.

Prior to his municipal career, Mike was very active as a hockey official. He started officiating youth games at the age of 14 and progressed to the junior ranks a few years later. He was then recruited to referee in the NHL development leagues and officiated close to 500 pro games over an eight year period. Since his retirement from professional hockey, he has dedicated time to mentoring young hockey officials and coaching his children's various sports teams.

Mike is a graduate of the Municipal Administrator Program, holds the designations of Certified Municipal Officer/Certified Municipal Manager and has completed an MBA degree.

Why I am interested in volunteering on CAMA:

"During the past 20 years I have had the privilege of volunteering with two municipal organizations. For close to 15 years I served on the Board of the Association of Municipalities of Ontario (AMO) and for close to 10 years I served on various standing committees with the Association of Municipal Managers, Clerks & Treasurers of Ontario (AMCTO). I have thoroughly enjoyed contributing to these provincial organizations and now look for an opportunity to contribute to my national organization at the board level."
